ALBANY.

Geo. H. Kenaston, has sold his farm in Albany, and starts for Wisconsin tomorrow (Tuesday).

BARTON.

In giving the list of officers elected for the ensuing year, at the Musical Convention at the Landing, the name of W. Lyford, of Standeand, one of the Executive Committee, was omitted.

Mr. William Colliston, of this village, while unloading logs, at the head of the pond, last Tuesday, had his right arm caught between two logs, and had his hand and arm very badly jammed. As Mr. Wm. is one of the stirring kind and is not much used to loafing about, it comes little hard on him.

Subscribers, did it snow any up to your house last Saturday night? Barton and vicinity was favored with between a foot and a foot and a half. Enough had fallen at 6 o'clock to stick the passenger train twice between here and Lyndon, and make it about five hours late. The heaviest batch we have had this winter.

Mr. & Mrs. George Bickford wish to express to the good people of Glover and Barton their sincere and heartfelt thanks for their generous donation to help to replace clothing and other articles needed for immediate use, lost at the recent burning of their buildings. May the eye of Him that seeth all things watch over and keep you from ever needing a like assistance.

I notice a very philanthropic writer in the last paper, referring to the heavy load drawn by Mr. Warner. Now I know that team is not abused. The team is easy, hard trot and no up hill. The team is a large one, kindly treated and well fed, and is not afraid to repay its owner with a little hard work. A small team, half fed and half groomed would be still further abused with half the load.

The report of school district No. 1, (village district) shows the whole number of families to be 175; No. having children under 20 years of age 119; under 5 85; whole number of children under 20 years of age 284; between 5 and 10 93; between 10 and 15 59; between 15 and 20 50. There were 19 births and 8 deaths in the district during the year 1871.

Young men, remember that St. Valentine's day comes the 14th of this month, a week from next Wednesday. Remember also that the place to "buy 'em" is at Dutton's Drug Store. Go in and see them. Ed. keeps one of the best assortments of drugs, medicines, chemicals and perfumery to be found in Orleans County. If you want anything in his line give him a call. He is a fine fellow and no mistake; treats all his customers with civility and does not look cross if you do not buy.

J. B. Cassidy, of this place, was in Montreal last week and took a look at the largest bell in the world,—the largest ever made except the Moscow bell,—and that is broken all to smash now.—It hangs in the Catholic Cathedral, on Notre Dame St., nearly 200 feet from the ground. It was made in England, and weighs 24,780 pounds. The tongue weighs 800 pounds. These figures he took from the bell and put them down in his diary so we guess they are right.

On the 30th inst., E. Bigelow, who lives at the Landing, was at this village and had the ill luck of a slight mishap. He hitched his horse in front of Mr. Arkley's and stepped into the house for a few moments, when, hearing a noise he went to the door in time to see his horse going down the railroad track. The horse went as far as the crossing by the church and then crossed the road to W. F. Robinson's store where he climbed the steps to look in the windows, and was caught. The results were a demolished bridle, a broken whiffletree and some other damages to the sleigh. It is not known what caused the horse to start. Although high spirited, he is very gentlemanly.

"OFF ON A STILLY NIGHT."—Last Wednesday eve., our village hitched her about horses into her long sleighs, threw in her buffalo and lay robes, and to the jingling and the tinkling of the bells, bells, bells, were, with Freeman at the helm and Jenness at the dasher, hurried down the river with "music in the air" and "oysters on the brain." The house in the valley, called "The Valley House," soon appeared in the distance, and with stories half told the party halted at the door, where they had been invited by the proprietor and their former fellow citizen, Mr. John Brown, to "taste and try" the flavor of his oysters—just caught—and cakes and pies and other fixins' required for a first-class oyster supper. Besides the double tables, many single ones were there. Some fifty couple were present. All did eat and were well fed, well filled and well satisfied. After the supper was over a few of those that knew how, adjourned to the hall and had a civil little dance, but at an early hour wound up, and went on their way home favorably impressed with the hospitality of the Barton Landing Hotel.

John has a very pleasant location, a well kept and good looking house, is a good looking fellow himself and has got a good looking wife, and we don't see any reason why he will not be successful in his new business, and have everything about him done up Brown.

Quite an interesting and lively little time was had at the school meeting in our village last Wednesday evening, which was called to see if the district would vote to fix up the school house in a suitable manner to accommodate four schools. Some sound, sensible and sober remarks were made by several gentlemen as to the necessity of making some preparations for the convenience of the many little brats that have come into the world and district the past year. "Barney" from the opposite shore, helped to spice the thing along by now and then throwing in bit-bits of fun. Others "got on board" and floated along, until the house was "six one way and half a dozen the other." A good deal of hand spitting and some foot stamping was indulged in on both sides of the house, which added life and good humor to the meeting; but when the "I's" and "No's" were called for, the moderator could not, for the life of him, tell which voice was the strongest. The house was divided and the vote was declared in favor of fixing, and it was voted, to repair the school house and provide suitable rooms for four schools; to raise the school house one story and give sufficient room for two schools and room in the basement for furnaces to warm the house; to add a front to the side of the house sufficient to build stairs for the second and third stories and to repair the wood shed and hall in a suitable manner; appointed Amos Hunt, E. F. Dutton and Charles H. Dwinell a building committee to draw plans and specifications, and advertise the same in the Barton paper and invite bids for doing said work, and to let the same to the lowest bidder.

BROWNINGTON.

Henry Miller, Esq., has an excellent singing school at Evansville, Tuesday and Friday evenings. It is conducted in a manner worthy the high reputation which Mr. Miller enjoys as a teacher.

According to previous notice the good people of Brownington met at the town hall at Brownington Center Jan. 30, afternoon and evening, and after a pleasant interview which was enlivened by excellent singing, all showed themselves workmen that needeth not to be ashamed—the ladies in cooking, and all in eating the well served oysters—they manifested their respect for us by leaving with us $80 in cash and departing in peace. May the Lord bless the donors for all time to come, and at last admit them into his people's rest is the prayer of his unworthy servants.

COVENTRY.

A FAITHFUL PASTOR.—The statistics of Rev. F. W. Dickinson's anniversary sermon, were published in the Newport Express, and we find the following comments thereon in the Troy (Alabama) Messenger, of Jan. 11:

"We seldom meet with a better record of faithful and efficient pastoral labor, in these times of spiritual lethargy, than that made by the Rev. F. W. Dickinson, pastor of the Calvinistic Congregational Church at Coventry, Vt. He preached his first anniversary sermon a few weeks since, from which we learn that during the past year there has been great harmony and hearty co-operation in church and society. The church has paid up a debt of three years standing; purchased an organ; established meetings in five districts in town, and in one maintain meetings once a week all the year, and some of the time two a week. The church has raised, and expended $1935.70 (besides paying the church debt) which is $775.40 more than last year, and is now free from any incumbrance. The pastor has preached 185 sermons, visited 151 different families, made 447 pastoral visits, attended 19 funerals, and solemnized 16 marriages. Thirteen families have been added to the congregation and 30 conversions reported. The church has lost within the last two years 31 members by death, 14 by dismission and one by excommunication. The present number of families in the congregation is 118; persons resident connected with the congregation, 800; average attendance of congregation 193; increase over last year, 11; whole number of believers, 191; number of believers not members of the church 55; number of communicants not members of church, 22; number of believers not communing members of the church, 33; whole number of communicants, 158."

CRAFTSBURY.

Henry Whittys has sold the past season, from eight cows, 1800 lbs. of butter, besides using what was needed in a family of four and some of the time five.—The cows have had no meal, but what hay they have had was early cut. If any one has done better we should like to know who it is.

The following is the discussion before the Farmers' Club Tuesday evening, Jan. 23rd: Topic—How shall we best improve our wet lands.

J. D. R. Collins. I have not had any experience in improving wet land, but gave an account of three acres of land owned by Mr. Anderson of Glover, an account of which appeared in the Standard some time since. The land produced a small crop of poor hay. At the time he drained one half of it, I made an estimate that if he had put his drains twenty feet apart, his two first crops would have paid him for draining the whole piece, and I thought the estimate would be low.

M. Root. On all our farms we find a good deal of wet land which does not produce a good quality of hay. How shall we improve this so that we may get better hay and more of it? If we can get rid of the acidity in the soil we shall have the desired effect, and this can only be done by draining. Our meadows we cannot underdrain, but our wet land we can as a rule. If we could get tiles we could drain cheaper. On my meadows I have shallow, open drains and the quality and quantity of grass is improved. If we would underdrain we should improve our farming very much.

Many thanks are due to Mr. Wm. Chamberlain for his efforts in getting our singers to the Orleans County Singing Convention, held at Barton Landing, and other services he has rendered the choir.

West Williams has commenced business in his tannery in earnest; has employed the best of help and is ready to do anything in his line, in a satisfactory manner.

SMART TEAM.—Mr. Hammond Kinney last Monday morning went to Hardwick with a passenger, arriving at the depot about twenty minutes after the train had left for St. Johnsbury, but thinking his horse equal to steam, gave chase, and arrived at the railroad station in Walden, fifteen minutes before the train, gaining thirty-five minutes in traveling seven and one-half miles. Smart horse, but slow train.

The shop formerly owned and occupied by A. W. Hidden in the manufacture of the empire washing machine has been reopened by Orange Hovey. He is ready to do anything in the line of repairing or making this machine. It is generally understood to be one of the best machines made.

ACCIDENT.—As Mr. Levi Glidden was arranging the bedding under a young horse it became frightened, kicked, hitting him with such force that he became insensible and under the continual kicking of the horse came near losing his life. Dr. O. A. Bemis was immediately called, and he was skillfully cared for and is now considered out of danger.

DERBY.

At the recent meeting of the shareholders of the National Bank, Derby Line, the old board of Directors were re-elected, viz: A. T. Foster, Leslie Robinson, H. D. Holmes, W. S. Foster and Porter Hinman. A. T. Foster, President. The bank is in a flourishing state, and the Directors declared a semi-annual dividend of 6 per cent. payable Feb. 1st.

Bennett Fields of West Derby sold his place for $2200. The Overseer of the paper mill hands, is the purchaser.

Preparations are being made to start the paper mill at West Derby. The machinery is being cleaned and repaired, and it will probably commence running in a short time.

GREENSBORO.

The contract for carrying the mail from this village to the "Bend" has been awarded to H. B. Ladd, of this place, commencing Feb. 1st, 1872.

We learn that J. W. Simpson, of E. Craftsbury, is making active preparations for building a wholesale store at the "Bend" early in the spring, and J. A. & W. B. Sawyer are getting out timber for a like purpose, so we judge that the wholesale business is expected to be large at that point. We hope it will, but fear that somebody will be disappointed.

IRASBURGH.

F. G. Riley and family have moved to Derby Center.

The carpenters and joiners expect to finish work upon the Congregational Meeting House this week. Upwards of $5000 have been expended in repairing the church.

About 40 couple attended the old folk's ball at the Irasburgh House, Jan. 31. An excellent oyster supper, and dancing, furnished the old folk's comfort and entertainment until about 5 o'clock the next morning, when they went home to look after the babies.

Last week, Hon. E. P. Colton read a very interesting piece at the weekly meeting of the Good Templars. It was well written and full of genuine humor. It was suggested by finding one of his neighbors on the street in a decidedly "muddled state of mind." The Good Templars are thriving well this winter.

A YOUNG SCHOOL TEACHER.—Mr. Harlow Foss has a little girl 5 years old, who attends school in the day time and when she gets home at night she sets up her boy and girl dolls for scholars and teaches school in the evening. The other night she asked a question which was a poser, not only to the dolls, but to the parents of the child. "Now," said she, "I am going to give you an example, and I want every one of you to answer promptly: Suppose John and his brother go out hunting bird's eggs, John gets his hat full and his brother gets thirty-eight, how many more does John get than his brother?"

JABY.

The temperance lecture at this place on the 31st ult. and 1st inst. were complimentary to the young lecturer, J. K. Fuller. They were listened to by a full house each evening. Mr. Bryant, the Derby apple tree man gave him $5.00 (apples trees), he was so well pleased with him.

Mrs. George Smith has rented her farm and dairy for one year to Mr. Manuel, he paying $800 pounds of butter to each cow.

At a regular meeting of Good Templars the following officers were chosen: M. S. Chamberlain, W. C. T.; Miss M. E. Galbraith, W. V. T.; J. E. Chase, W. S.; Z. O. Sargeant, W. F. S.; B. H. Percy, W. T.; L. Percy, W. M.; E. M. Chase, W. O. G.; Miss N. Derby, W. I. G.; B. N. Chase, W. C.; Mrs. F. Crandall, W. R. H. S.; Miss L. A. Elliot, W. L. H. S.; Miss E. A. Crandall, W. A. S.; Mrs. L. E. Crandall, W. D. M.; A. Du Bois, P. W. C. T.; G. W. Crandall, L. D.

LOWELL.

There is to be a literary entertainment and oyster supper at the Congregational church Tuesday evening February 20, under the management of the "Ladies' Benevolent Society." The exercises to consist of dialogues, charades, tableaux, an "Old Folks' Concert," &c. Tickets to concert, 15 cts. each. Children under ten, free. Tickets to the oyster supper, $1.00 per couple. Children under 10 years, twenty-five cts. each. The proceeds to be devoted to repairing the church. All are invited to attend.

NEWPORT.

The "Drummer Boy of Fredericksburgh," was played at Newport on Thursday and Friday evenings. There was a good attendance and all appeared to be satisfied.

J. M. Babcock has sold his store and goods at Newport, to Mr. Lawrence, formerly a partner with him. They are now taking an invoice of the goods.

The next free lecture of the regular course will be given at the Academy Hall at half past seven next Thursday evening, by Rev. Mr. Somerville. Subject: The Destiny of Man. In these lectures, the reading circles, the dancing schools and the cotton parties, the old heads and young heels of our people seem to be abundantly cared for.

ORLEANS COUNTY TEMPERANCE SOCIETY.—The annual meeting of the Orleans County Temperance Society will be held at Newport on Wednesday, February 14, 1872, the session commencing at 10 o'clock A. M. in Academy Hall. Object of the meeting: the election of officers of the society; the transaction of the usual business; and the nomination of a candidate for County Commissioner.

Every friend of temperance in the county is cordially invited to attend. Per order of Executive Committee.

MISSISSQUOI AND CLYDE RIVERS RAILROAD.—We are informed that the line of this road is located as far as the summit near Dea. L. Cummings'. The contract to build the bridge across the bay of the lake has been let to S. M. Field, Esq., who has already commenced the work. The survey will be completed to Canada line next week when the whole line will be ready for grading. The success of this enterprise will add much to the resources of a valuable section of the state, and will contribute also to build up Newport as a business centre.—Vermont Farmer.

GLOVER.

The schools in town for the most part were not in session during the past week, the teachers attending the Institute at Albany.

J. E. Dwinell has just received a new lot of room paper. Best assortment anywhere around here. We haven't seen it; took his word for it; he don't lie.

The Sabbath school at the village have recently made a handsome addition to their library. They have expended some $50 for books, catalogues and cards.

DONATION.—There will be a donation visit at the town hall in Glover village, Thursday Feb. 15th, afternoon and evening for the benefit of Rev. M. R. Chase. It is expected that Rev. J. W. Malcom will favor us with remarks. Oysters will be served. All are cordially invited.

Dr. Templeton one day this week met with quite a mishap which resulted in the breaking of the pole to his sleigh and smashing in the dasher. His horses taking fright ran from Wm. Sawyer's without a driver, down through the village, then ran with great violence against a post, breaking the pole and disengaging themselves from the sleigh. When found they were in Mr. Ingles' doorway looking very innocent, apparently unconscious of being any way concerned in the affair. Horses and driver more scared than hurt.

Mrs. Nesbitt, a native of Scotland, died the 29th ult., at an advanced age. She was living with her son Mr. John Borland. Mrs. Nesbitt was a woman of uncommon perseverance and resolution. She came to this country with her little family, settling in the west part of the town. She used to go into the field with strong men and with her sickle reap and bind as much grain as the best of them. Her energy and go-ahead qualities were well worthy of imitation.

SHEFFIELD.

Mr. Chillis Cass' cooper shop with all its contents were burned on the 1st inst. About 300 sap buckets, cooper tools and a lot of farming tools were burned. Loss from two to three hundred dollars. Insurance not reported.

WESTMORE.

The Westmore lumber company at Long Pond, cut a spruce tree on their land Jan. 25, that scaled 2,400 feet in the log. It has been drawn upon the ice of the Pond, where it can be viewed with a critic's eye until spring. If there is a bigger spruce this side of California, let's hear.

STATE ITEMS.

The farmers of Caledonia county hold a public meeting at the Avenue House Hall, St. Johnsbury, February 22d.

Rutland boasts of a woman 38 years old, who has had several husbands, been divorced from a third, and is living with the fourth. She was married at 13 and has been the mother of 14 children, only two of which are now alive. Husband number three and four served in the army during the rebellion.

Mrs. A. S. Henry, of Thetford, has received a verdict of $800 against F. S. Stack, for slanderous remarks against her character. This is a good correction of evil gossip, and if many more would pursue their slanders in the courts, much gossip and falsehood in reference to female character would be at an end.

Elmer Tinkham, residing near the State line in Shaftsbury, was seriously injured on Saturday last, while drawing a load of wood upon a wagon. The wood fell off, throwing him under it and also beneath the wagon, two wheels of which passed over his body breaking his thigh in two places and crushing one hand. Fears are entertained that the injuries will prove fatal.

One of the biggest savings banks in New England is the Windham Provident Institution for Savings, of Brattleboro. This institution held its 25th annual meeting on Wednesday. The amount of deposits, January 2, 1872, was $1,222,172, being a gain of $164,822 during the past year. Three dividends were made, one just declared being an extra dividend of 10 per cent.

ANOTHER VERMONT BOY VICTIMIZED.—This morning, says the Troy Whig of a recent date, Sylvester Perry, about 17 years of age made complaint to officer Bradley at the depot that he had loaned a stranger $7.50 at the depot and could not find the borrower. He said he lived in Vermont and that he had just arrived from Iowa. He met a stranger who borrowed $7.50 (all the money he had excepting a dollar) and gave him a check as security. It was the old, old story. The young man went on his way with the simple consolation that he was a big fool.

A THOUGHTFUL ACT.—A few days since a gentleman residing in Sharon walked from that place to Canton, on the Boston and Providence Railroad, to take the express train for Boston. On reaching the bridge he discovered what seemed to him a split nearly across one of the main beams. On his arrival at Boston he called Superintendent Folson and told him how the bridge looked. The superintendent thanked him, and telegraphed to Sharon for the next train to be stopped, and for gang of workmen to examine it before any trains passed over. Subsequently the gentleman received a yearly pass over the road for his thoughtfulness.

SAD CASE OF DROWNING.—The Burlington Free Press records a sad case of drowning in that place on Sunday 28th ult. Albert Granger, a lad of thirteen, with several others were skating on the lake, on new ice formed where it had been removed on Saturday. The ice cutters had put up no guards and the boy broke through. His companions raised the alarm and an old man named Johnson threw a rope to him as he struggled to keep afloat. The first time the rope was thrown, the boy missed it. By the time it was thrown again he was becoming thoroughly chilled and benumbed. The little fellow grasped the rope as tightly as he could with his stiff fingers, and held for a moment. He was some distance out in the new ice so he could not be approached closely. He kept his hold of the rope for a few moments when his grasp gradually loosened and he sank to the bottom. Grappling hooks were procured and the body soon drawn up, but life was gone.

A fire broke out Saturday afternoon in the paint shed connected with the extensive chair manufactory of E. W. & E. Morris, at Hartford, Vermont. The building was totally consumed. There was in it stock, mostly chairs ready for market, valued at $10,000, about half of which were saved. A house adjoining, belonging to Alexis Counterdash, was badly damaged. The main shop and a covered bridge over White River were saved with the greatest difficulty, there being no fire apparatus.

Just as this fire had spent itself the house of John Bugbee, eighty rods distant, on the opposite side of the river, was discovered to be on fire, having doubtless taken from burning brands.—This was consumed, and but for the timely arrival of the Mosconia Engine Company from Lebanon, N. H., a distance of six miles, several contiguous houses must have burned. The village very narrowly escaped a general conflagration.

FIRE IN BRISTOL.—About half past 2 o'clock Saturday morning last, one of the most disastrous fires that ever visited a Vermont village, broke out in the business portion of the flourishing little town of Bristol. The fire originated between the millinery store of Mrs. Gillet and Dr. Eddy's drug store, and spread with fearful rapidity in every direction. Toward the east it burned first the drug store of Dr. Eddy; next the hardware store of Dyke & Bixby, and barns and adjoining buildings. This was all it could consume in this direction and the work of destruction was thoroughly done.

To the west, the fire first attacked the millinery and fancy goods store of Mrs. Gillet, which was entirely consumed, with the dentist's office, &c., in the upper stories. Cain's meat market was also burned and the fire spread to Hodge's grocery store, which was speedily consumed. The large block next west, adjoining the hotel grounds was next destroyed. Dr. Hasseltine's drug store and Manly Will's boot and shoe store were burned, with Spaulding's and Ricker's law offices, and Mann's harness shop on the second floor of the Masonic lodge on the third. From this block the fire spread to the carriage house, stables and other outbuildings of the hotel, which were entirely destroyed. Here the career of the fire was stopped. It is impossible for us at present to give correctly the losses sustained by the different sufferers by the fire. Messrs. Shedd & Walker of our city, are said to be losers through the firm of Dyke & Bixby. Bristol is a busy, thriving village, and in this fire it suffers a visitation from which it will take it many years to recover. There is hardly a doubt that the fire was the work of an incendiary. As to the identity of the guilty parties, there are many wild rumors afloat, which we, for the present, refrain from stating.

The fire, as we have stated, was first discovered between Eddy & Hickok's drug store and Mrs. Gillet's millinery store. A box and barrel were first discovered to be on fire, indicating, as some think, incendiarianism. Others say, when they first arrived the fire was between the two buildings and near the top, supposing it to have originated in the dental rooms over Eddy & Hickok's store. Time may reveal something more positive. The first theory prevails in Bristol. It is not known that any one was injured, but Mr. R. T. Hodge had a narrow escape. The belief that the fire was the work of an incendiary is gaining ground. Time may tell. The latest accounts indicate that Hodge saved part of his floor, and had an insurance of $5,500; Dike and Bixby's goods were insured for $7,500, but the insurance on their buildings had run out; Eddy & Hickok were insured to the amount of $700; the Masonic Hall, $1,200; the barn of the Bristol Hotel, $1,000. E. D. Munger lost about $2,500; no insurance.—Free Press.

Singers and public speakers who are troubled with hoarseness, will derive immediate and lasting benefit, from Weeks' Magic Compound. The smallest possible quantity moistening the throat, affords relief at once.

DR. WISTAR'S WILD CHERRY BALSAM.—This Balsam of Canada has become a home fixture. Let all who suffer, and have in vain attempted to cure their coughs, colds, bronchial or pulmonary complaints, make use of this unequalled remedy. It can be relied upon, the mass of testimony that has been published since its introduction, being ample proof of its efficacy.

MARRIED.

At Barton Landing Jan. 30, by Rev. F. W. Dickinson, Mr. Geo. E. Churchill and Miss Emma L. Dodge, both of the Landing.
